

SPECTOR CRIMINAL JUSTICE TRAINING NETWORK, INC.

CRIME SCENE PROCEDURE / INVESTIGATION

Hosted by: West Hartford Police Department
January 26, 2027 - January 29, 2027
Cost: $ 465.00 per officer

This 4-day hands-on course, led by an experienced crime scene expert, trains participants to confidently manage crime scenes from start to finish. Using real case experience and proven techniques, it covers evidence recognition, scene management, and documentation. Ideal for patrol officers, detectives, and crime scene personnel looking to strengthen their field skills.

Course Highlights:

- Instructor-led training based on years of experience in major case investigations and evidence processing
- Step-by-step guidance from scene security to evidence packaging
- Crime scene photography with emphasis on camera settings for both day and night (students should bring their own camera)
- Real case examples with scene photos and evidence demonstrations
- Budget-conscious techniques developed from practical field experience

Evidence Processing Techniques Include:

- Cyanoacrylate (superglue fuming)
- Basic Yellow dye
- Ninhydrin
- Small Particle Reagent
- Adhesive Developer
- Alternate Light Sources
- Casting impressions for shoeprints and tire tracks

A practical, hands-on session will allow students to develop latent prints on various surfaces, photograph them, and lift them using tape, hinge lifters, and silicone techniques—guided by the instructor's expert insights. POSTC credits will be awarded upon completion.

Lt. Art Weisgerber

Lt. Art Weisgerber joined the Norwalk Police Department in September of 1988 and is currently the Commanding Officer of the Crime Scene/Identification Unit since 2011. Early in his career, he was assigned to the Patrol Division and the Special Service Division which investigated narcotic and vice crimes. In 1998 he was promoted to Detective and conducted general investigations. In 2002, he was assigned to the Cold Case Unit and attended the first Cold Case Reconstruction class at the Henry Lee Institute.

In 2005, he was promoted to Sergeant and remained in the Detective Bureau as a Detective Sergeant and conducting Cold Case Investigations as time permitted. In 2011, he was assigned as the Commander of the Identification Unit which was revamped and renamed as the Crime Scene / Identification Unit. In 2012, he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant and remained as the Commander of the Crime Scene / Identification Unit as a hands-on supervisor. In 2009, he became a Certified State of Connecticut Police Instructor and has been teaching in-house recertification courses along with Police Academy instruction in Bridgeport and Milford.

In 2016, he joined the State of Connecticut Police Officer Standards and Training Academy as an Adjunct Instructor teaching Law Enforcement Photography 1 & 2. Lt. Weisgerber has extensive training in photography, latent print development and identification and all facets of crime scene investigation. He has received numerous awards and citations for his investigative work, especially from the U.S. Office of the Inspector General and in 2019 was awarded the Norwalk Police Department Officer of the Year for his work for 17 years on the 1986 Homicide of 11 year old Kathleen Flynn.

★ Highly recommend this class to anyone in law enforcement. Best crime scene class that I have taken.

★ I learned so much on processing the crime scene that I thought I knew. It was fun, awesome, easy to comprehend"

★ The instructor combined academic and scientific information with practical applications and actual incidents to keep the material relavant and engaging."

★ This was one of the most beneficial classes I have taken. It was informative about all the evidence I have missed."
